PERSONAL SUMMARY

A skilled Teacher, seeking a transition to software development, with proven knowledge of using new tools and technical developments to drive improvements throughout an entire web development lifecycle. I have extensive theoretical and full life cycle knowledge in web-based environments, along with exceptional analytical and problem-solving capabilities, with considerable experience in designing and developing full stack web applications using React Native, JavaScript, Bootstrap, Expo SDK, and Redux Link. Furthermore, I have the enthusiasm and ambition to complete projects to the highest standard. Additionally, I have superb interpersonal and communication skills, coupled with excellent relationship building capabilities and excellent negotiating abilities.

RELATED PROJECTS

- React Native App (Staycation): A react native app designed for a company to help digital nomads find a relaxing place to work and live. The app showcases different resorts and allows users to book and favorite different places. (<https://github.com/TimothyJReid>)
- React Website (My website): A website that created to showcase my abilities as a developer. It allows people to quickly see what I have been working on and to contact me. (<https://github.com/TimothyJReid>)
- Python (JavaScript programs): A collection of JavaScript and Python programs I have made to explore different concept of the languages. (<https://github.com/TimothyJReid>)
